

I've changed the colour palette slightly to make it flow better and look complementary each other. I've made the navy duller to make the other colours pop more, I've also turned the forest green darker and deeper in colour for the same reason. I've kept the red the same, but the blue is brighter and has a more turquoise tone to it; the lime green is also lighter, so it stands out more.

