

This is the first full toile of the trousers, there are several changes to be made however, the fit overall is good especially around the waist and hips. The main changed, as shown by the annotated diagrams is the altered waistband and zip. These changes are mainly due to the fit and style of the trousers not quite matching the style that is desired for the garment. The only other change is to the fit of the lower legs, these have been altered to have a more tapered effect as well as being shortened minorly to have a slightly more modern appearance.
